Leads

1 Lead lifecycle (stages)

The path a lead takes from first enquiry to Won, Lost or Invalid. Stages are configurable; leads are never closed automatically.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

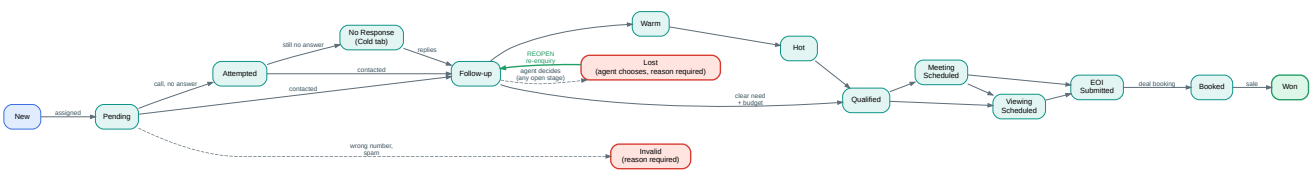

Every buyer enquiry moves through steps, from first contact to the sale, like a customer walking further into a showroom. Leads are never closed automatically; the agent decides.

REAL EXAMPLE

Ahmed sees an Emaar Beachfront ad on Instagram and fills the form. He starts as New. Sara is assigned and calls him (Pending). He doesn't answer twice (Attempted), then calls back (Follow-up). He confirms a budget of AED 3.2M for a 2-bed sea view (Qualified), visits the show apartment (Viewing Scheduled), pays a deposit (EOI Submitted), books unit 1204 (Booked) and completes the purchase (Won).

WHY IT MATTERS

Managers see at a glance how many buyers are at each step and where deals get stuck, e.g. many viewings but few EOIs means the pricing or the pitch needs work.

2 New lead intake and re-enquiry check

Same steps for every source: Meta, Property Finder, Bayut, Dubizzle, website, general webhook (e.g. Google Sheets), WhatsApp, Excel import, manual entry.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

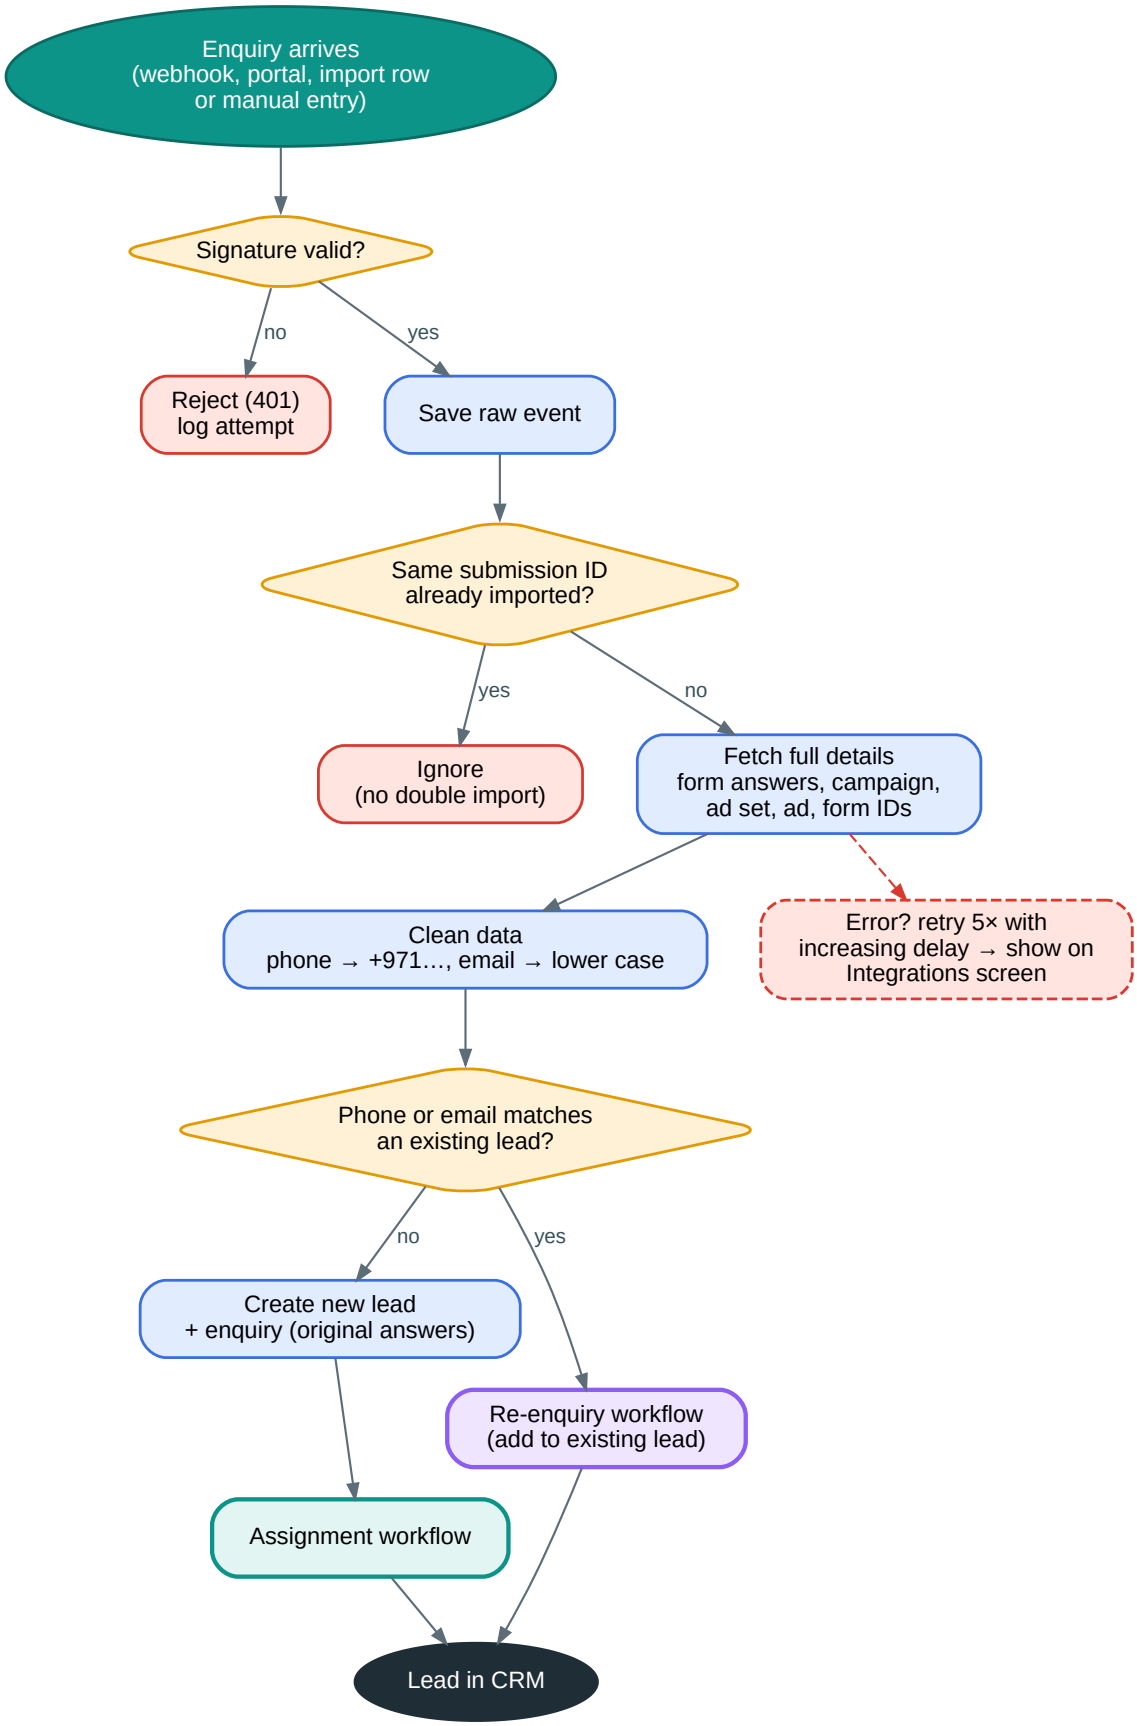

Whenever someone asks about a property, from any ad, portal (Property Finder, Bayut, Dubizzle), WhatsApp, the website or a Google Sheet through the general webhook, the CRM catches it within a minute, cleans the details and checks if we already know this person.

REAL EXAMPLE

Priya fills a form for Sobha Hartland on the website, which sends it to the CRM through the general webhook. Her details are cleaned (+971 format), the original answers are saved, and because her number is new, a new lead is created and sent to the assignment step.

WHY IT MATTERS

No lead is lost or imported twice, and every source, even ones without a ready-made connection, can feed the CRM.

Lead in CRM

3 Re-enquiry (repeat enquiry from an existing contact)

No duplicate leads: the enquiry joins the existing lead and goes back to the same agent.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

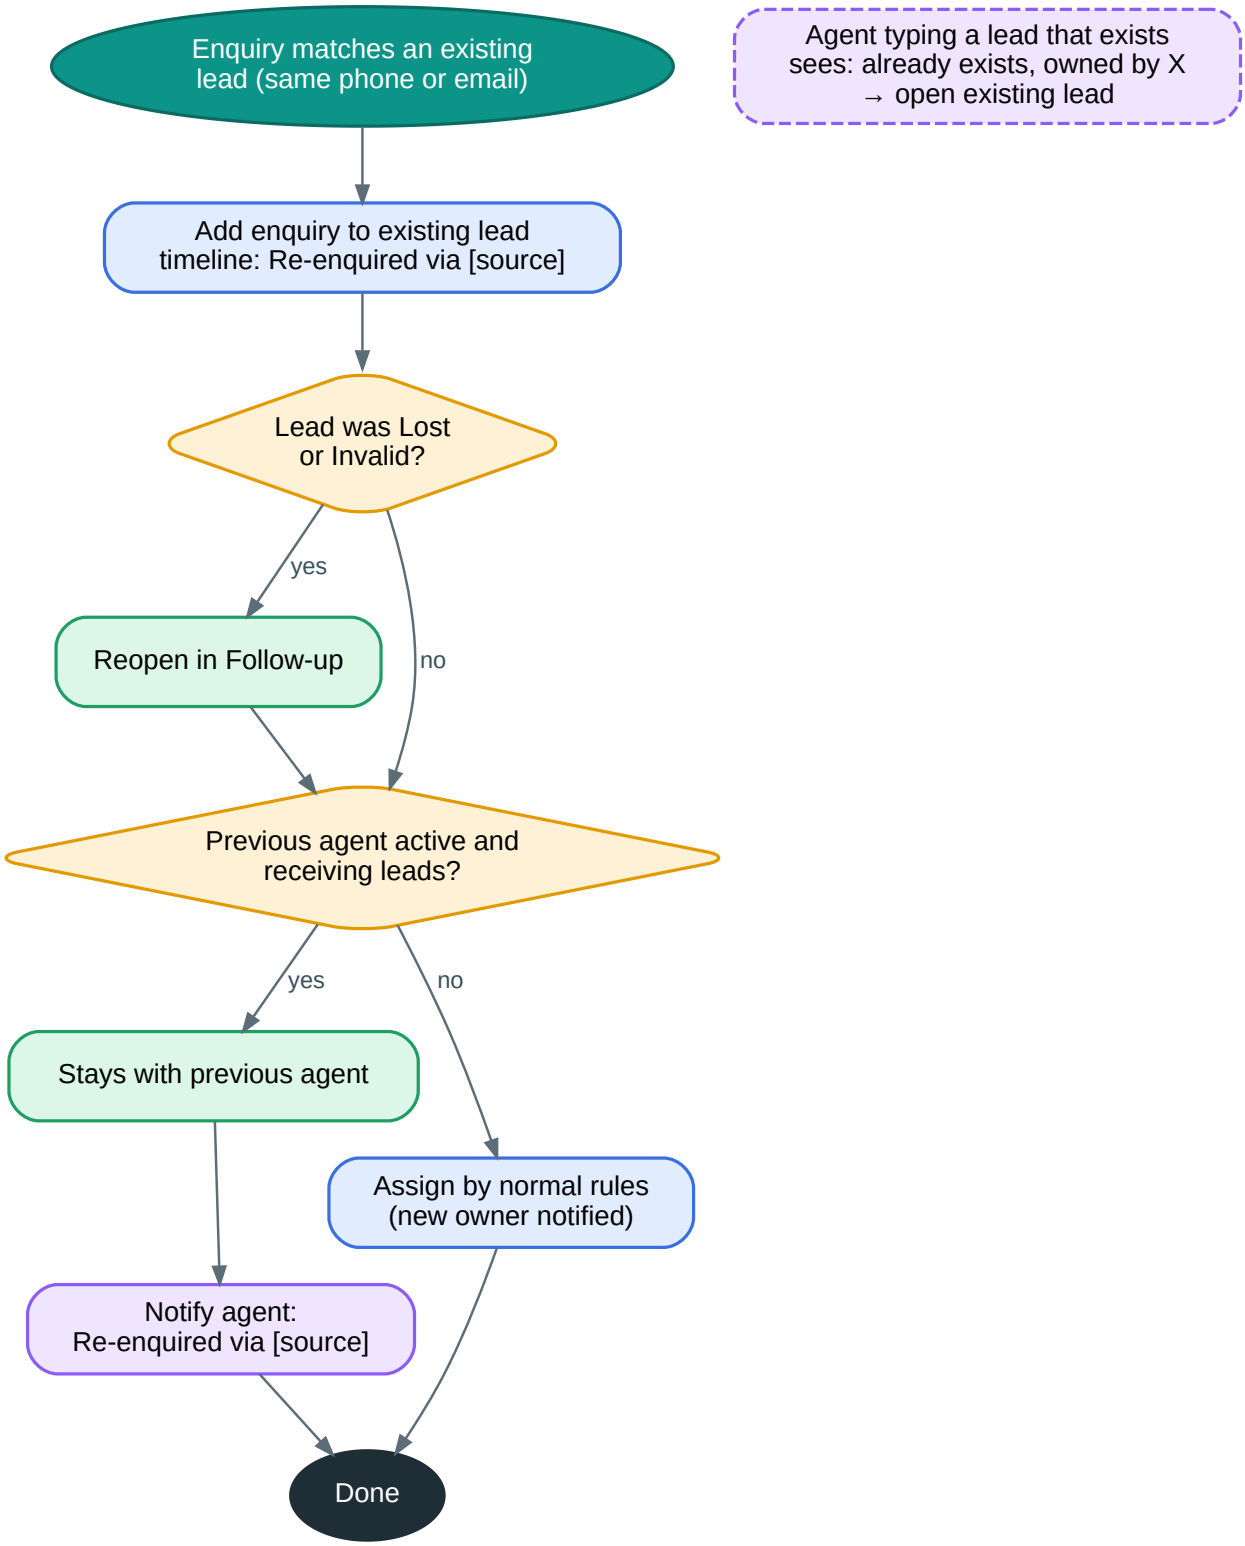

If a known buyer enquires again, no second lead is created. The enquiry is added to their existing lead and goes straight back to the agent who already knows them.

REAL EXAMPLE

Priya, already Sara's client, enquires again about Sobha Hartland on Dubizzle. The CRM recognises her phone number, adds the enquiry to her lead and sends Sara a notification: "Re-enquired via Dubizzle". If Priya had been marked Lost, her lead reopens in Follow-up. If Sara had left the company, the lead would go to a new agent by the normal rules.

WHY IT MATTERS

The buyer always deals with the same agent, no two agents chase the same person, and agents get a timely signal that an old buyer is active again.

Enquiry matches an existing lead (same phone or email)
Agent typing a lead that exists sees: already exists, owned by X → open existing lead

4 Sharing a lead with another user

The owner keeps the lead; others can help on it.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

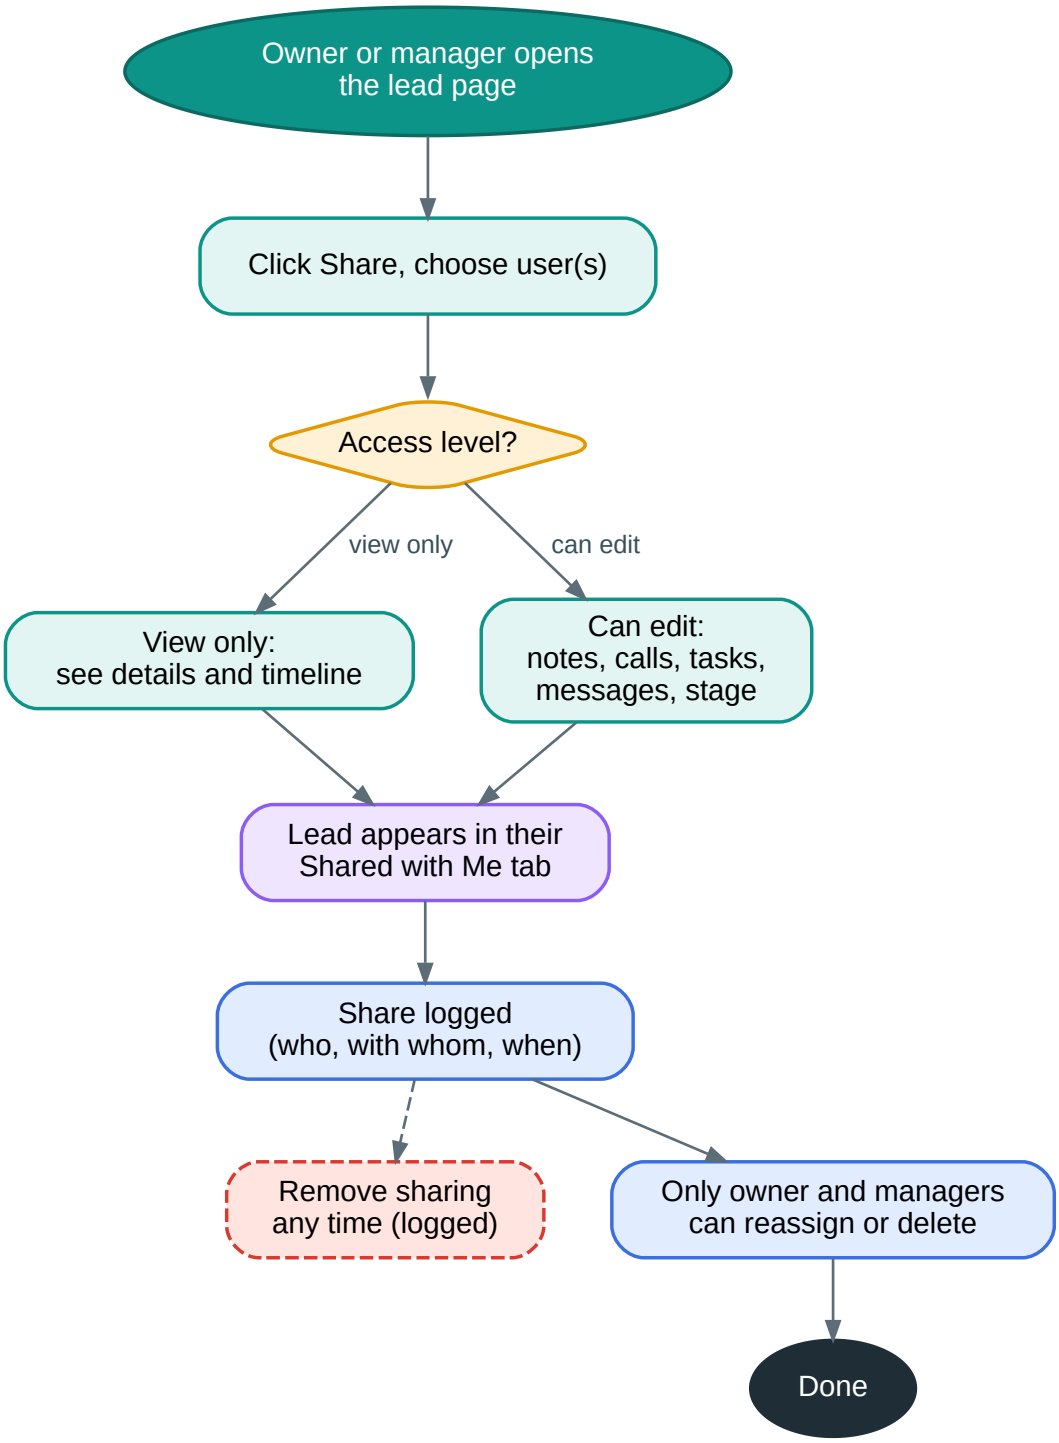

An agent or manager can let a colleague see or work on a lead, without giving the lead away.

REAL EXAMPLE

Sara owns Ahmed's lead. Ahmed now wants a Russian-speaking colleague to join a call with his partner, so Sara shares the lead with Mira as "Can edit". Mira sees it in her Shared with Me tab, logs her call and notes. Sara stays the owner, and can remove Mira's access any time.

WHY IT MATTERS

Teamwork on big deals without confusion about who owns the buyer, and every share is recorded.

5 Lead assignment

Rules are checked top to bottom; the first match wins. Round-robin gives each available agent the next lead in turn.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

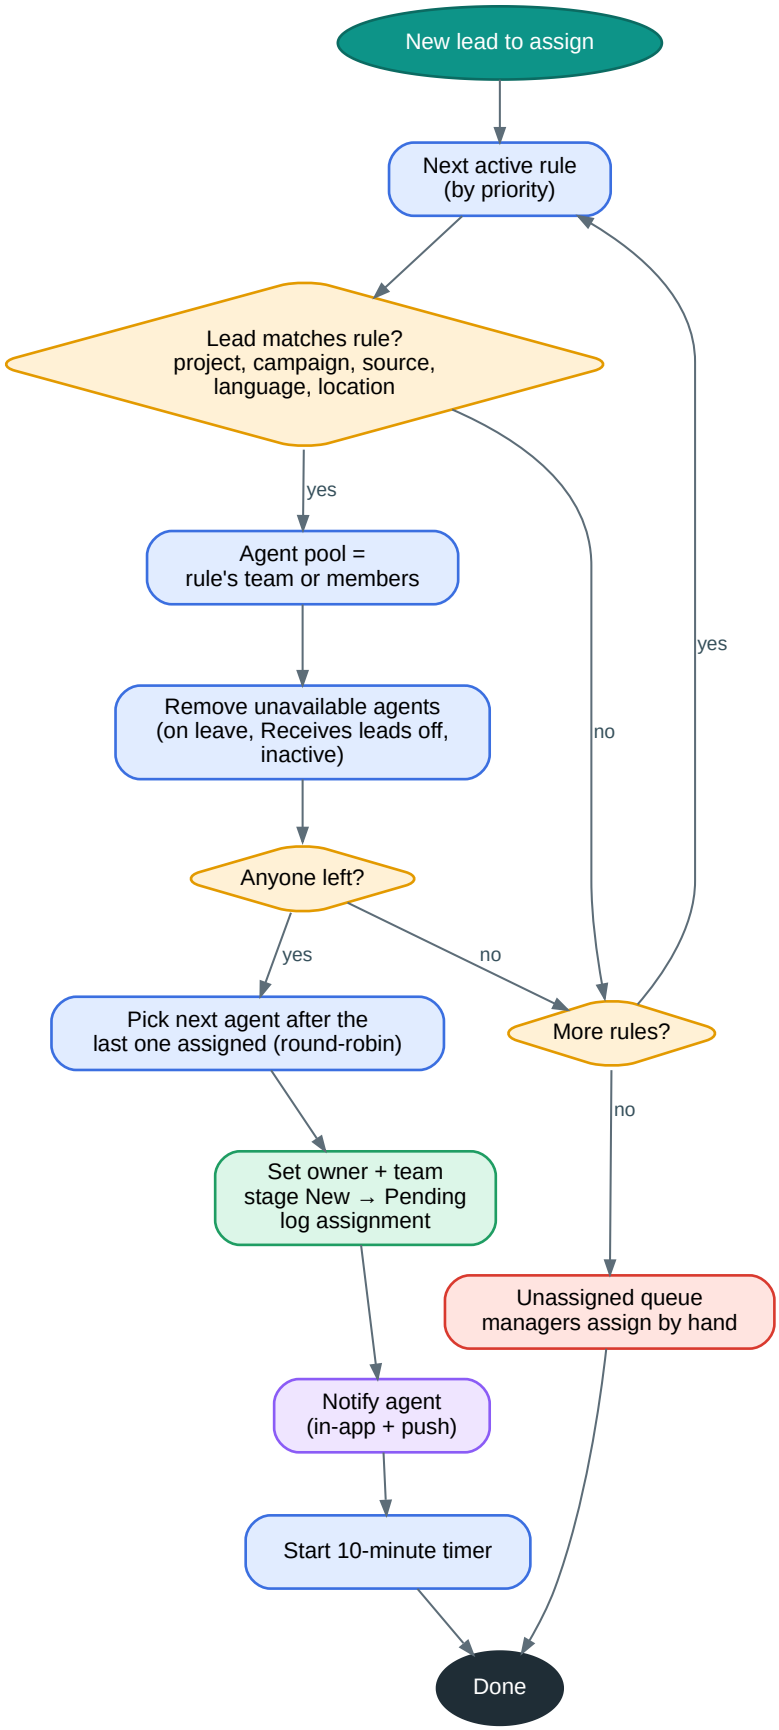

New leads go to the right agent automatically, using rules the company sets, and in turn so everyone gets a fair share. Agents on leave, or whose "Receives leads" switch is off, are skipped.

REAL EXAMPLE

Rules say: Emaar Beachfront leads go to Sara's team; Russian-speaking buyers go to Oleg or Mira. Dmitri, a Russian buyer, enquires about a villa in Dubai Hills. The first rule doesn't match, the second does. Oleg is on annual leave, so the lead goes to Mira, who is next in turn.

WHY IT MATTERS

Leads are answered by the agent best suited to close them, the workload is shared fairly, and no lead sits waiting because someone is on holiday.

6 10-minute rule: lead not answered

Time is a setting (10 minutes by default). Any logged action by the agent (call, note, message, stage change) counts as a response.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

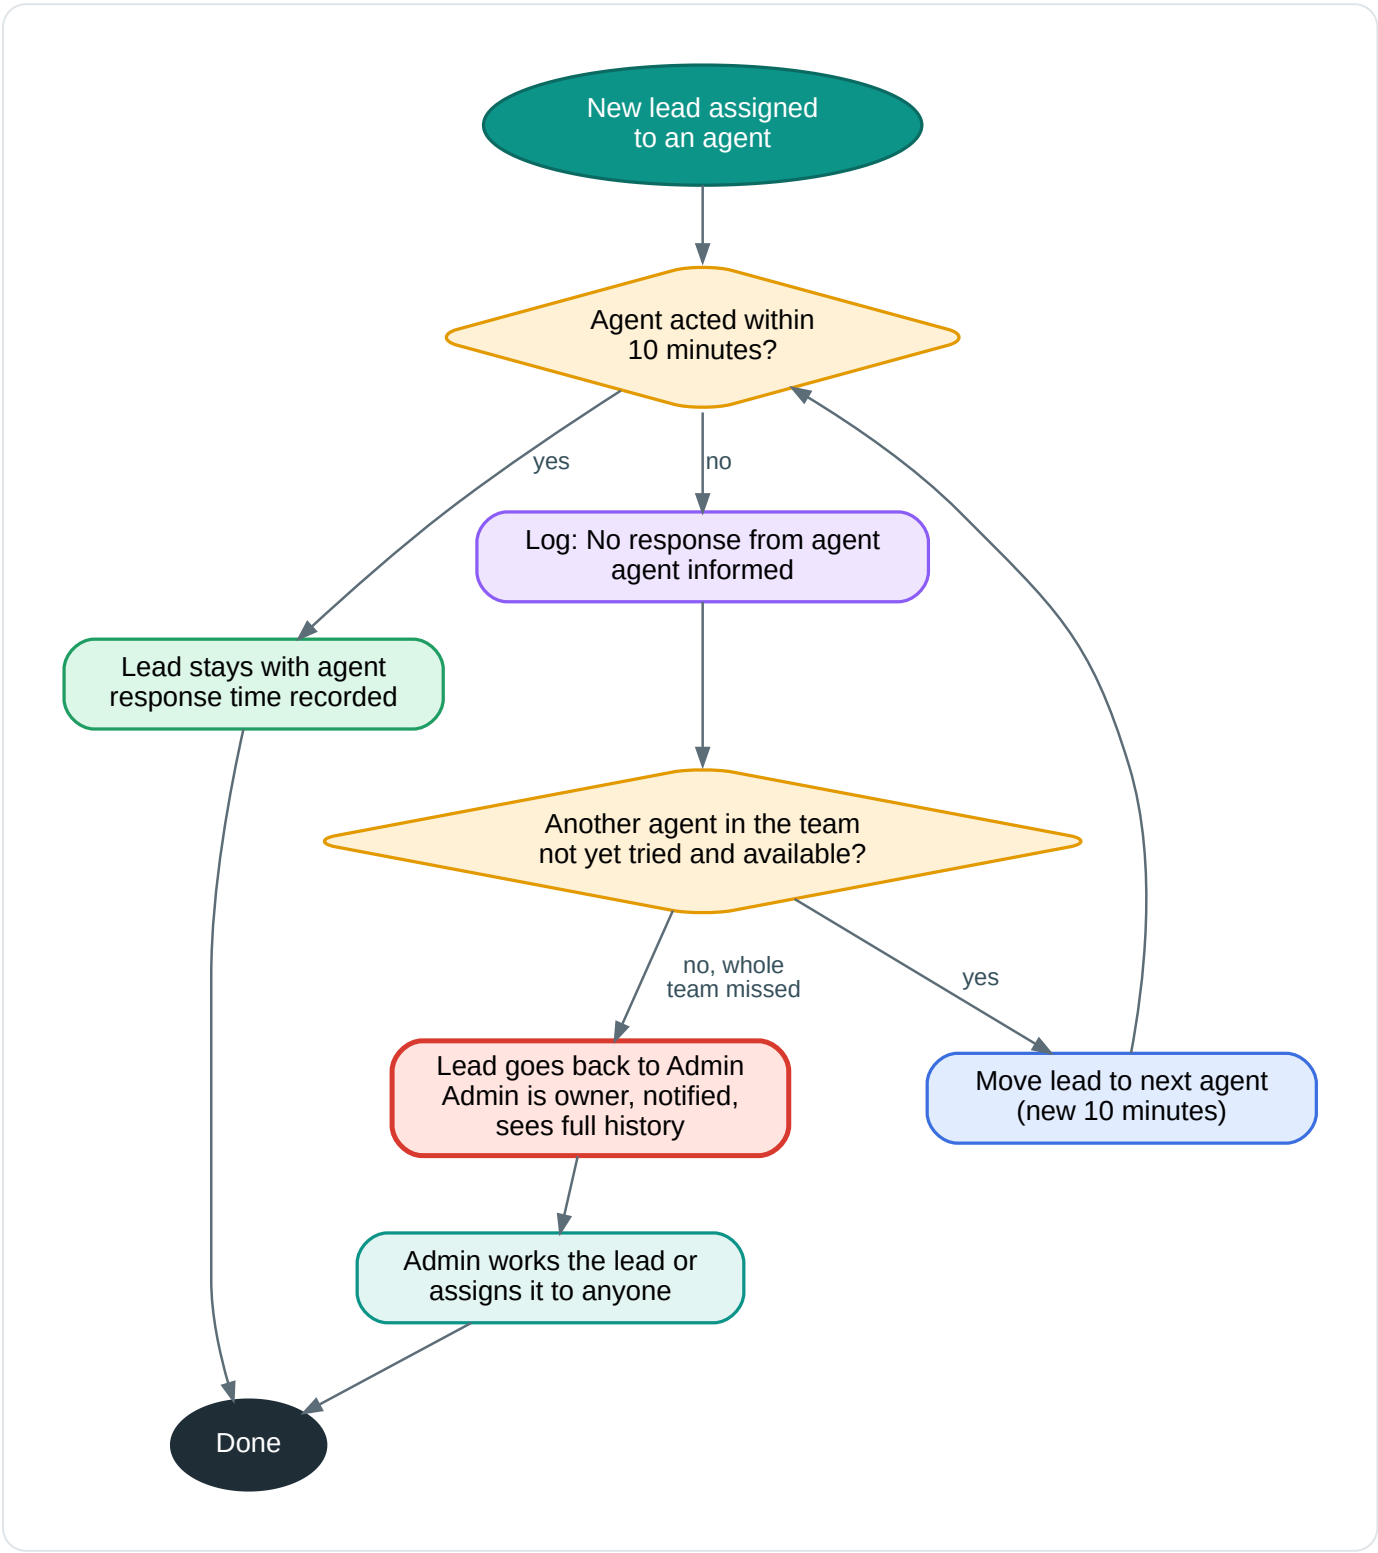

A new lead must be acted on within 10 minutes. If the agent doesn't act, it moves to the next agent in the team. If the whole team misses it, it goes back to the Admin.

REAL EXAMPLE

A Bayut lead for Damac Lagoons arrives at 10:00 and goes to Ali. No call by 10:10, so it moves to Mira. Nothing by 10:20, so it moves to John. Nothing by 10:30: the whole team (3 agents) has missed it, so it goes back to the Admin, who sees the full history (who missed it and when) and decides who handles it.

WHY IT MATTERS

In Dubai real estate, the first agent to call usually wins the buyer. This protects expensive ad leads, and the history shows management which agents keep missing leads.

Tasks and meetings

7 Call and follow-up loop

Every call ends with an outcome and a next action, so no lead is left without a follow-up date.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

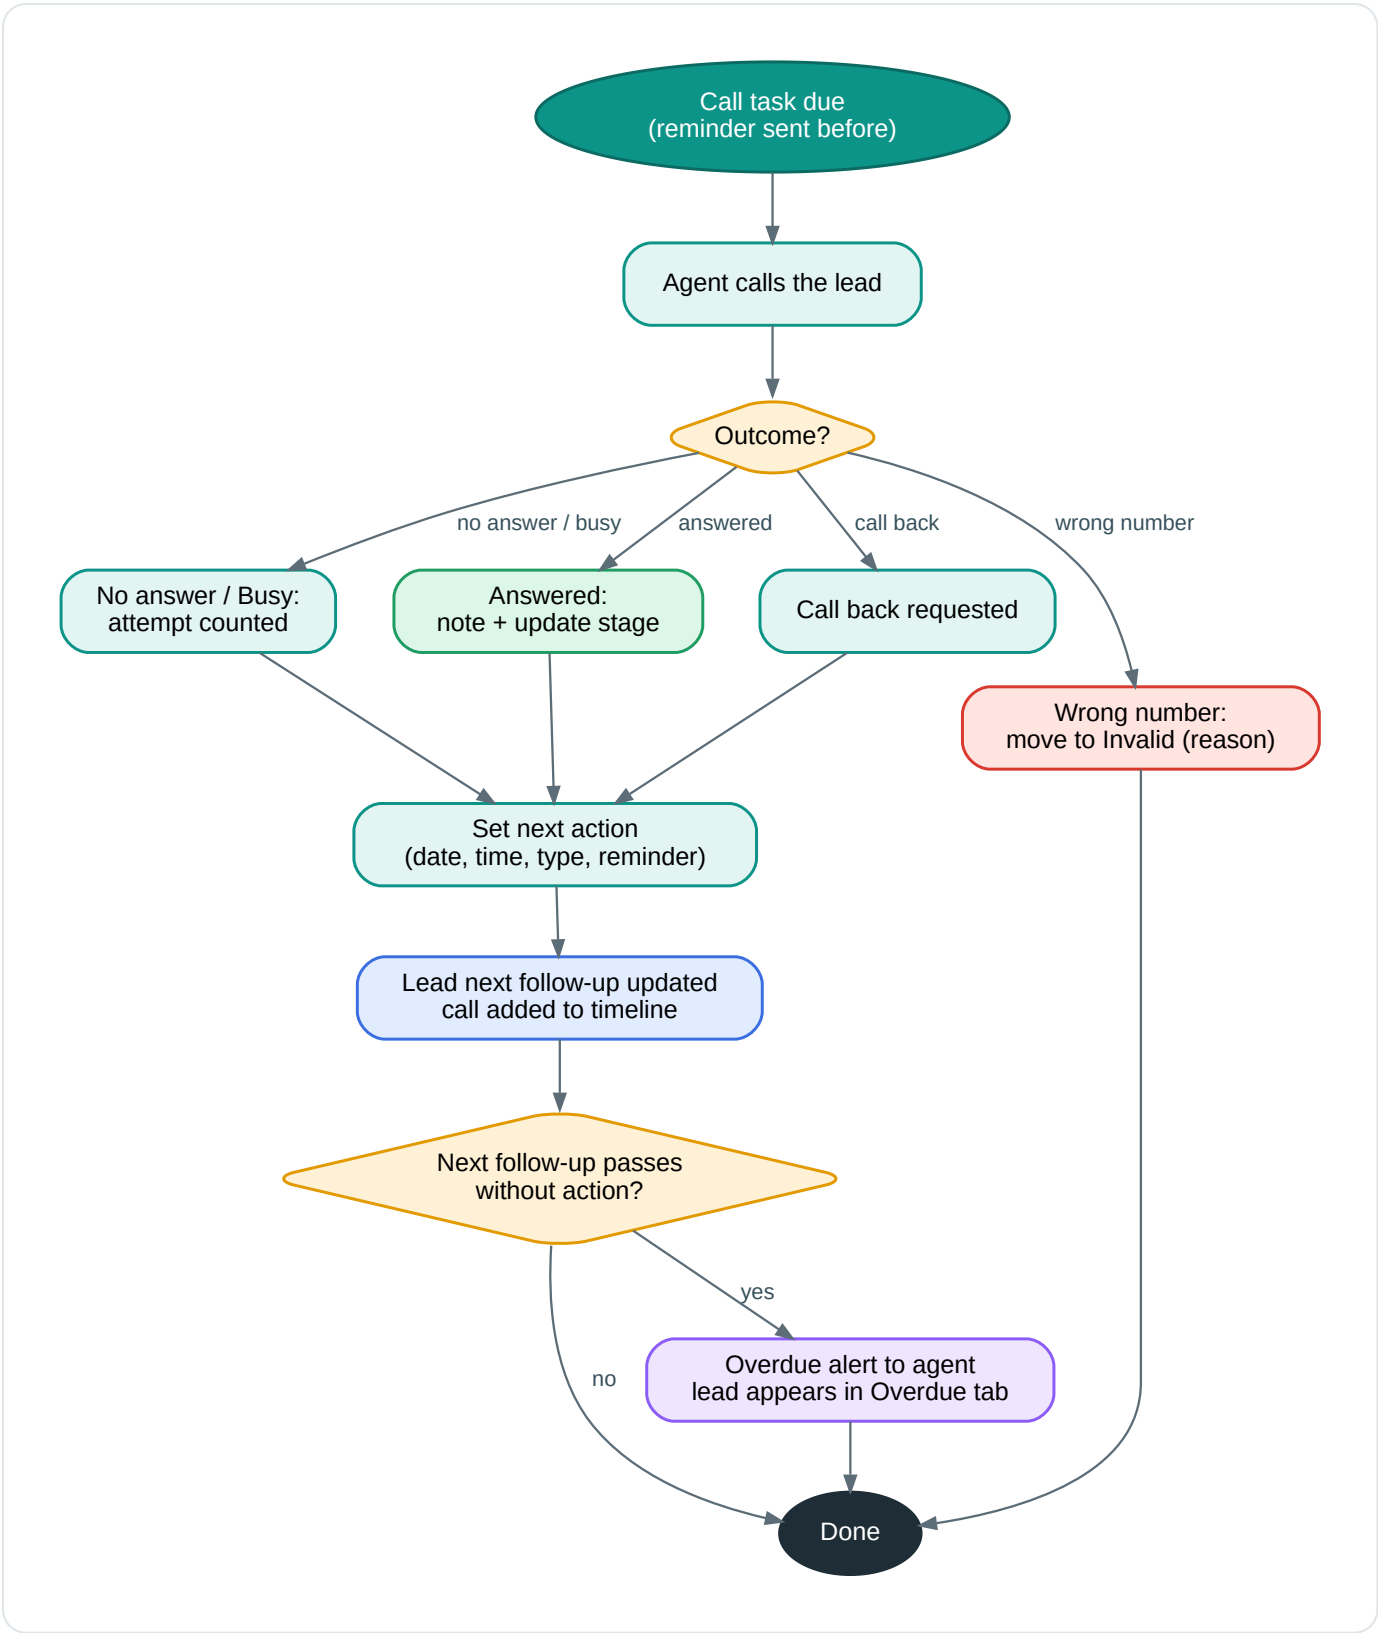

Every call ends with a result and a next step, so no buyer is ever forgotten.

REAL EXAMPLE

Fatima has a call with Sara at 4 PM. No answer: Sara logs "No answer" and sets a call-back for 6:30 PM. At 6:30 Fatima answers and wants a 3-bed in Damac Lagoons; Sara logs a note and schedules a viewing for Saturday. If Sara misses the 6:30 call, it turns red in her Overdue list and she gets an alert.

WHY IT MATTERS

Follow-up discipline is what turns enquiries into sales. Managers can see call outcomes per agent and coach where needed.

8 Meeting and viewing booking

Agents book from the lead page, or clients book themselves on the CRM booking page. Free Google Meet / Teams links replace Zoom and Calendly.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

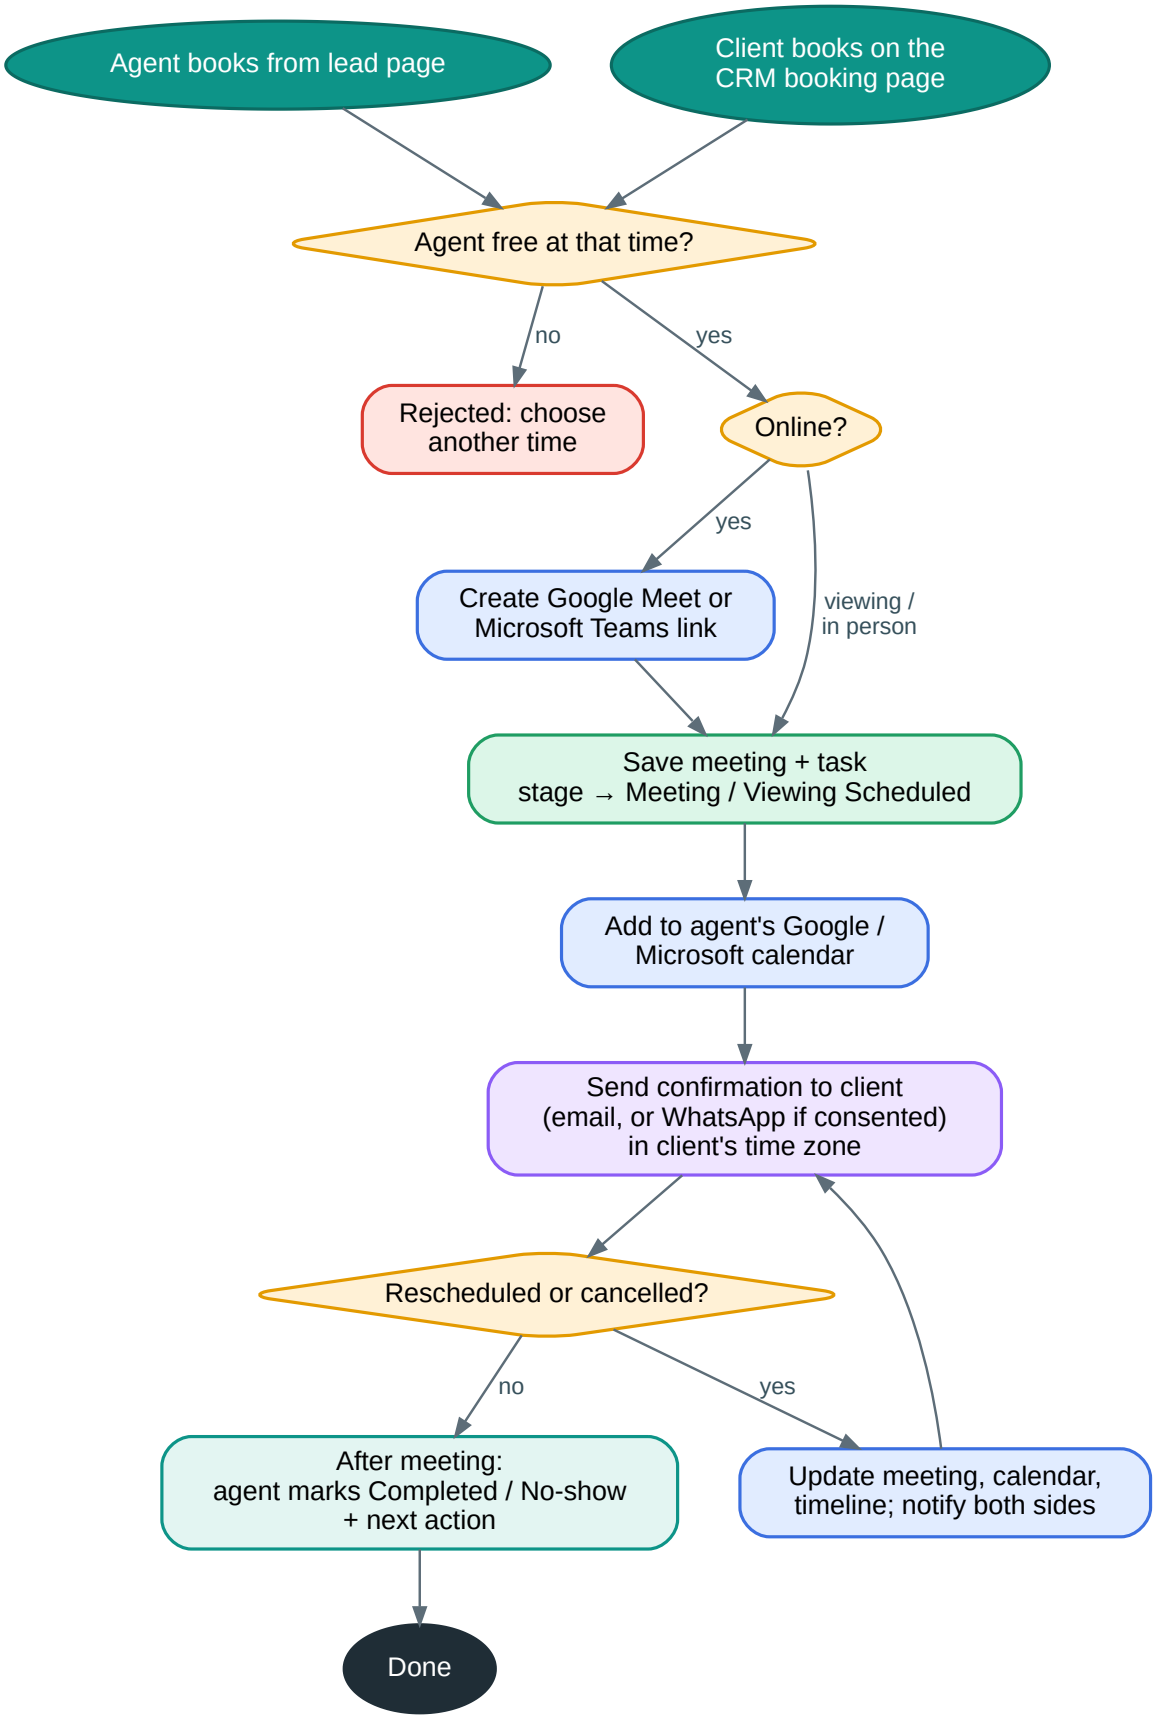

Meetings and property viewings can be booked by the agent or by the client on the CRM's own booking page. Online links (Google Meet or Teams), calendar entries and confirmations are created automatically, with no Zoom or Calendly subscription. An agent can never be booked twice at the same time.

REAL EXAMPLE

James, a UK investor, opens Sara's booking page and picks Tuesday 10 AM Dubai time. The CRM creates a Google Meet link, adds it to Sara's calendar and sends James a confirmation showing 7 AM London time. If James moves it to Wednesday, everything updates on both sides.

WHY IT MATTERS

Overseas buyers book easily across time zones, no meeting is missed or double-booked, and the brokerage saves the cost of Zoom and Calendly licences.

Messaging

9 Bulk WhatsApp / email campaign

Two people are always involved: the creator cannot approve their own campaign.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

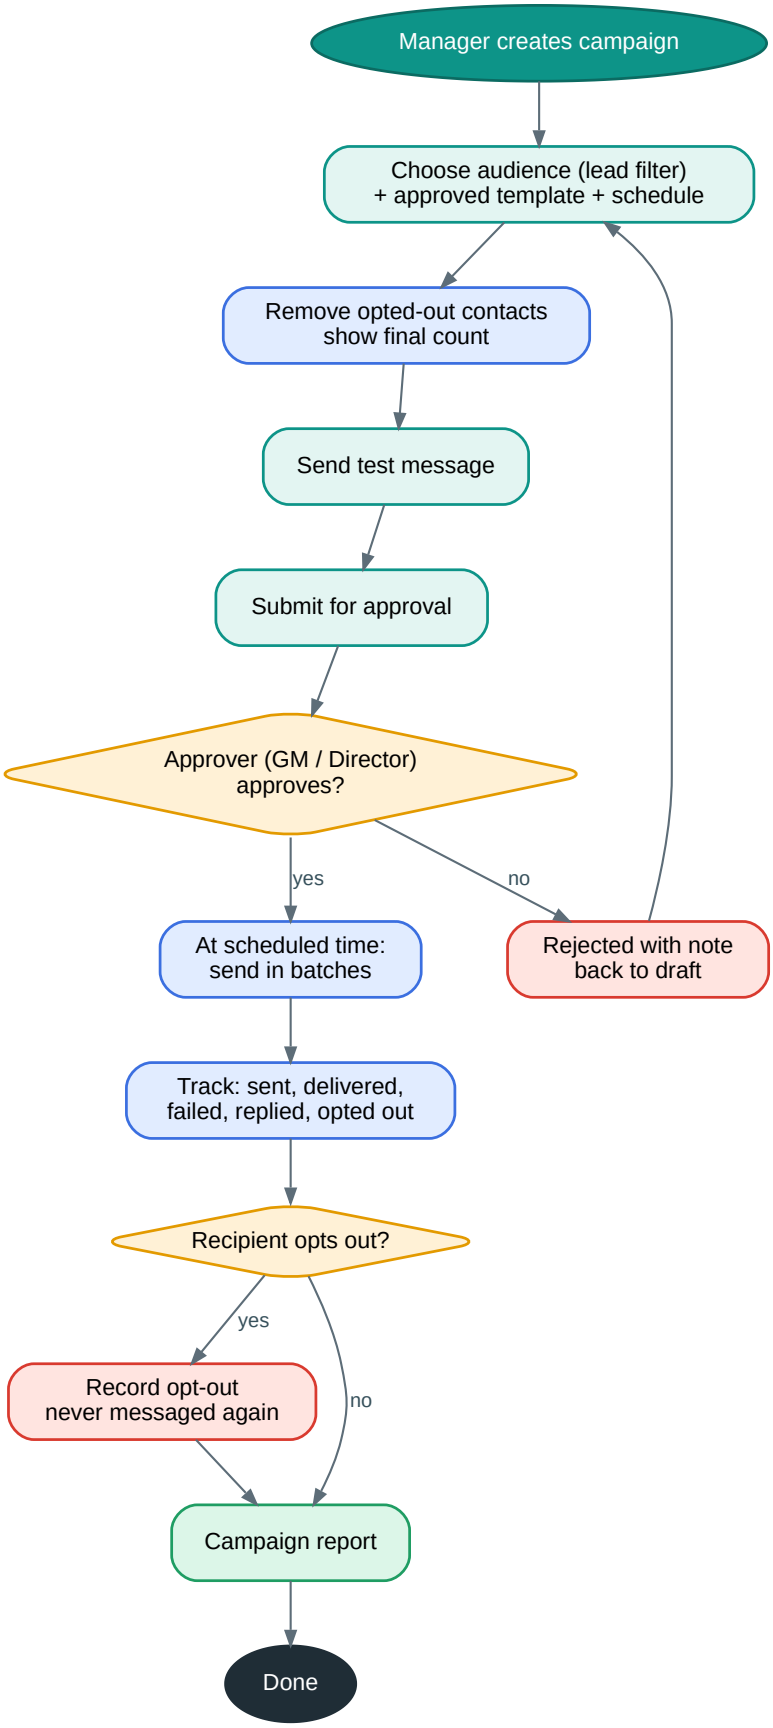

Sending a WhatsApp or email to many buyers at once follows a safe process: test it, get a manager's approval, and never message people who asked to stop.

REAL EXAMPLE

For the Beachfront Tower B launch, Omar picks all Warm leads interested in the project (1,278 people). 38 have opted out, so 1,240 remain. He sends himself a test, the GM approves, and it goes out Tuesday at 11 AM. The report shows 1,202 delivered and 186 replies. Two people reply "STOP" and are never messaged again.

WHY IT MATTERS

Launch announcements reach the right buyers fast, mistakes are caught before sending, and the company respects consent and UAE privacy rules.

Deals and finance

10 Deal and unit status

A deal links a lead to one unit. The unit's status follows the deal; a unit can only be booked by one deal.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

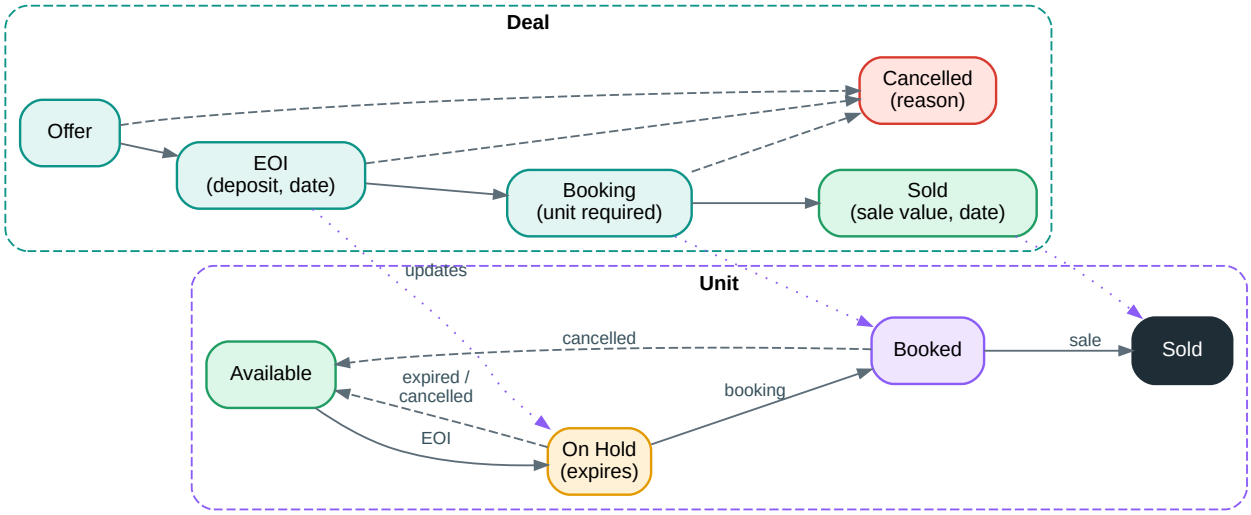

A deal follows the buyer from offer to sale, and the unit's availability updates at the same time, so two buyers can never book the same unit.

REAL EXAMPLE

Ahmed offers AED 3.25M for unit 1204 (Offer). He pays an EOI deposit, so 1204 goes On Hold for him. He signs the booking, so the unit becomes Booked. When the sale completes, it shows Sold. If another agent tries to book 1204 for a different buyer, the system refuses.

WHY IT MATTERS

The inventory list is always correct, agents never promise a unit that is already taken, and management sees real sales value by project.

11 Invoice and purchase order approval

Only drafts can be edited. After approval, a document is never changed: it is cancelled and reissued.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

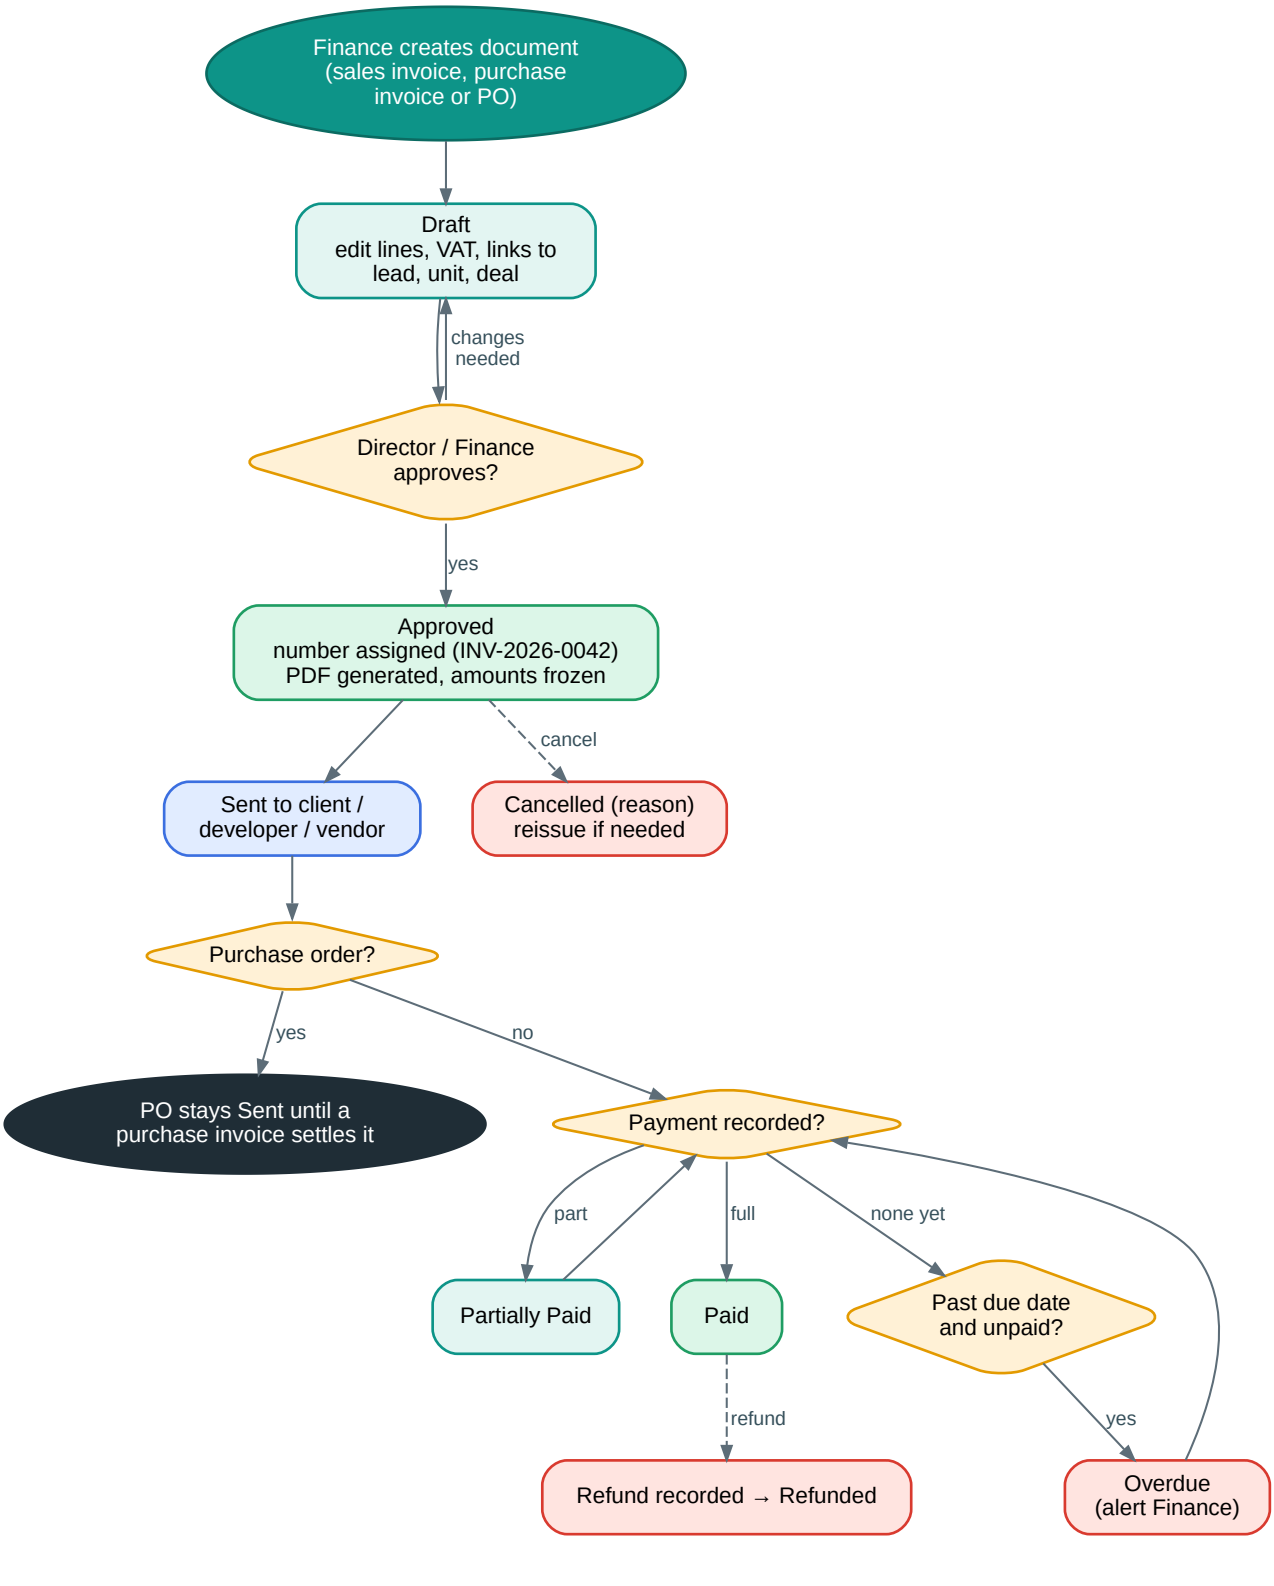

Invoices and purchase orders are created as drafts, approved by Finance or the Director, then locked. Payments are tracked until fully paid.

REAL EXAMPLE

After Ahmed's purchase, Finance creates a commission invoice to Emaar for AED 65,000 + 5% VAT. The Director approves it, it gets number INV-2026-0042 and a PDF is sent. Emaar pays AED 40,000 (Partially Paid). The balance of AED 28,250 is due by 4 November; if unpaid, it turns Overdue and Finance is alerted.

WHY IT MATTERS

Commission income is tracked to the last dirham, nothing can be changed after approval without a trace, and overdue money is chased on time.

Attendance

12 Attendance check-in and corrections

Original entries are never overwritten: a correction keeps a copy of the original and records who approved it.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

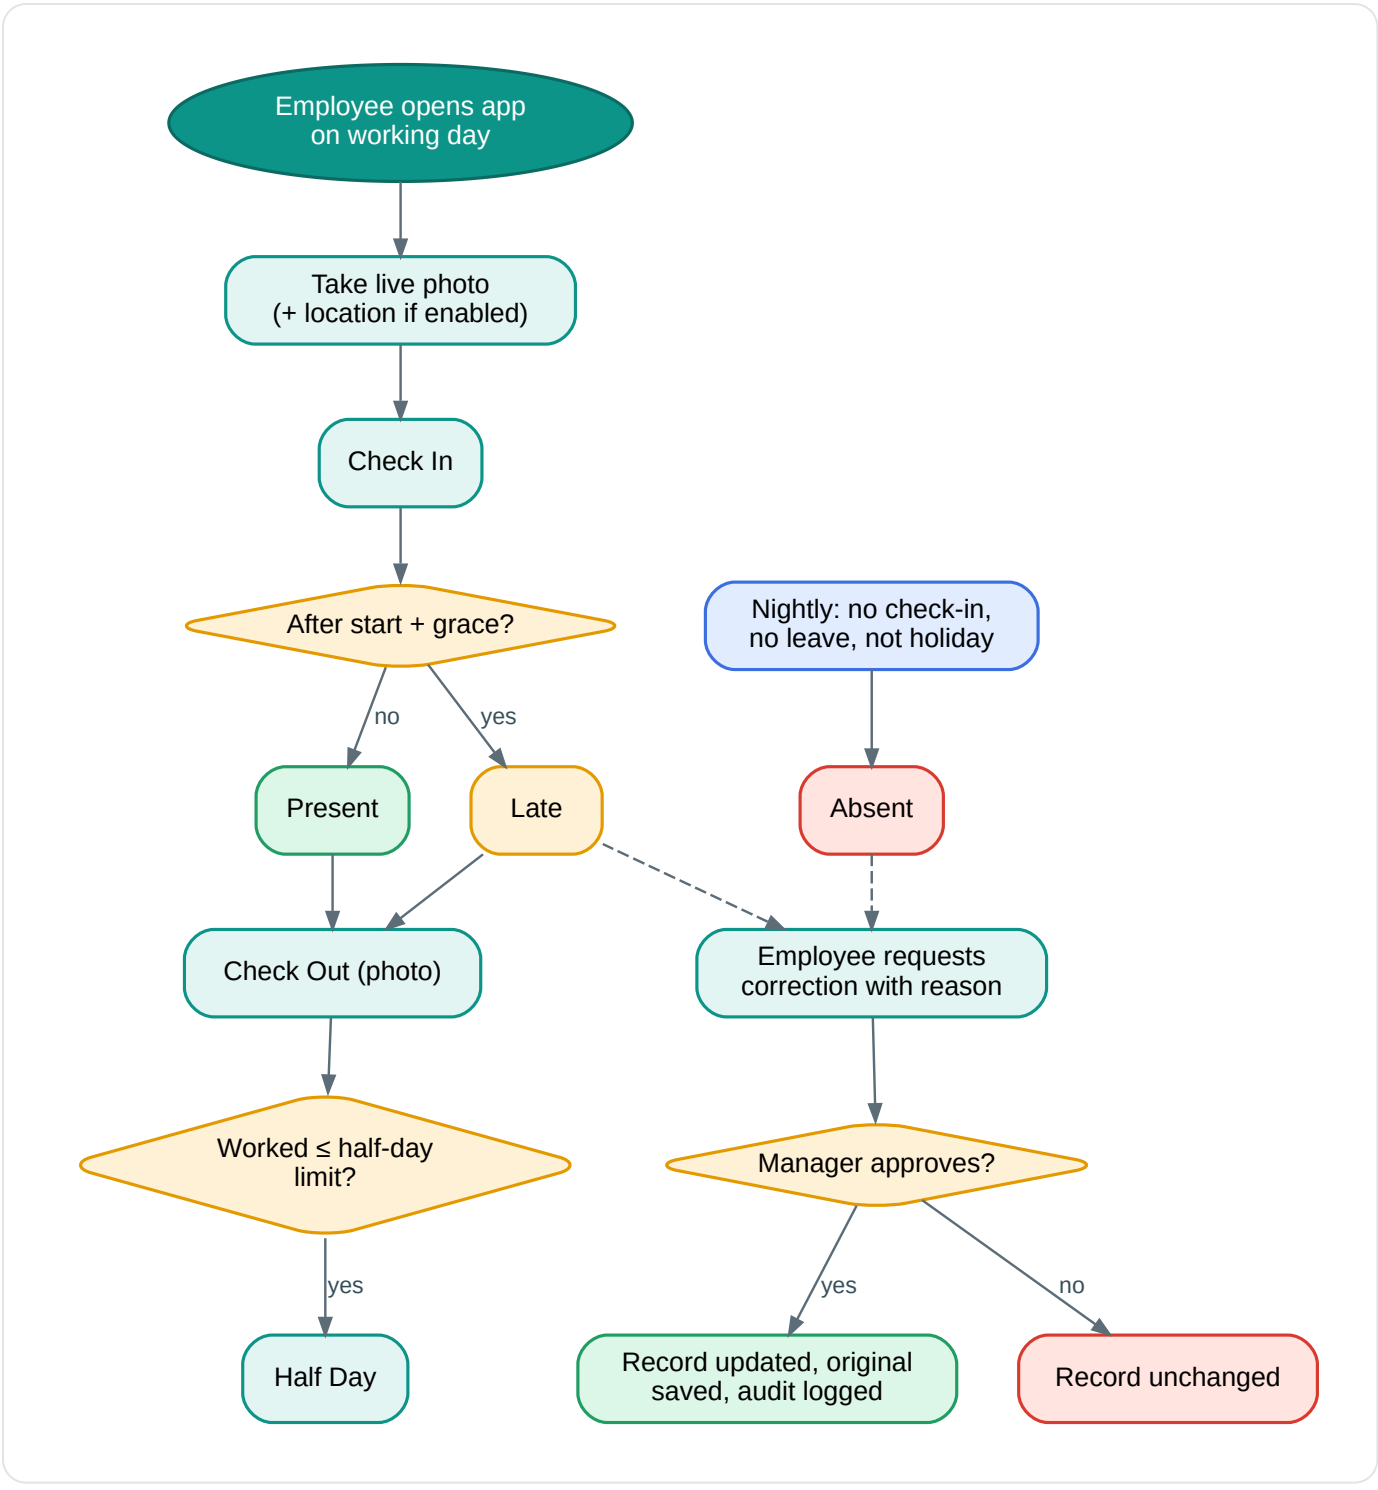

Staff check in and out on their phone with a live photo. The system works out Present, Late, Half Day or Absent. Mistakes can be corrected only with a manager's approval, and the original stays on record.

REAL EXAMPLE

Ali checks in at 9:02 with a selfie at the Business Bay office: Present. Mira's phone battery died, so she shows as Absent. She requests a correction ("in office at 9:10"), Sara approves it, and both the original and corrected entries are kept.

WHY IT MATTERS

Fair, tamper-proof attendance without fingerprint machines, and monthly reports ready for payroll.

13 Leave request

Approved leave makes the agent unavailable for new leads on those days.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

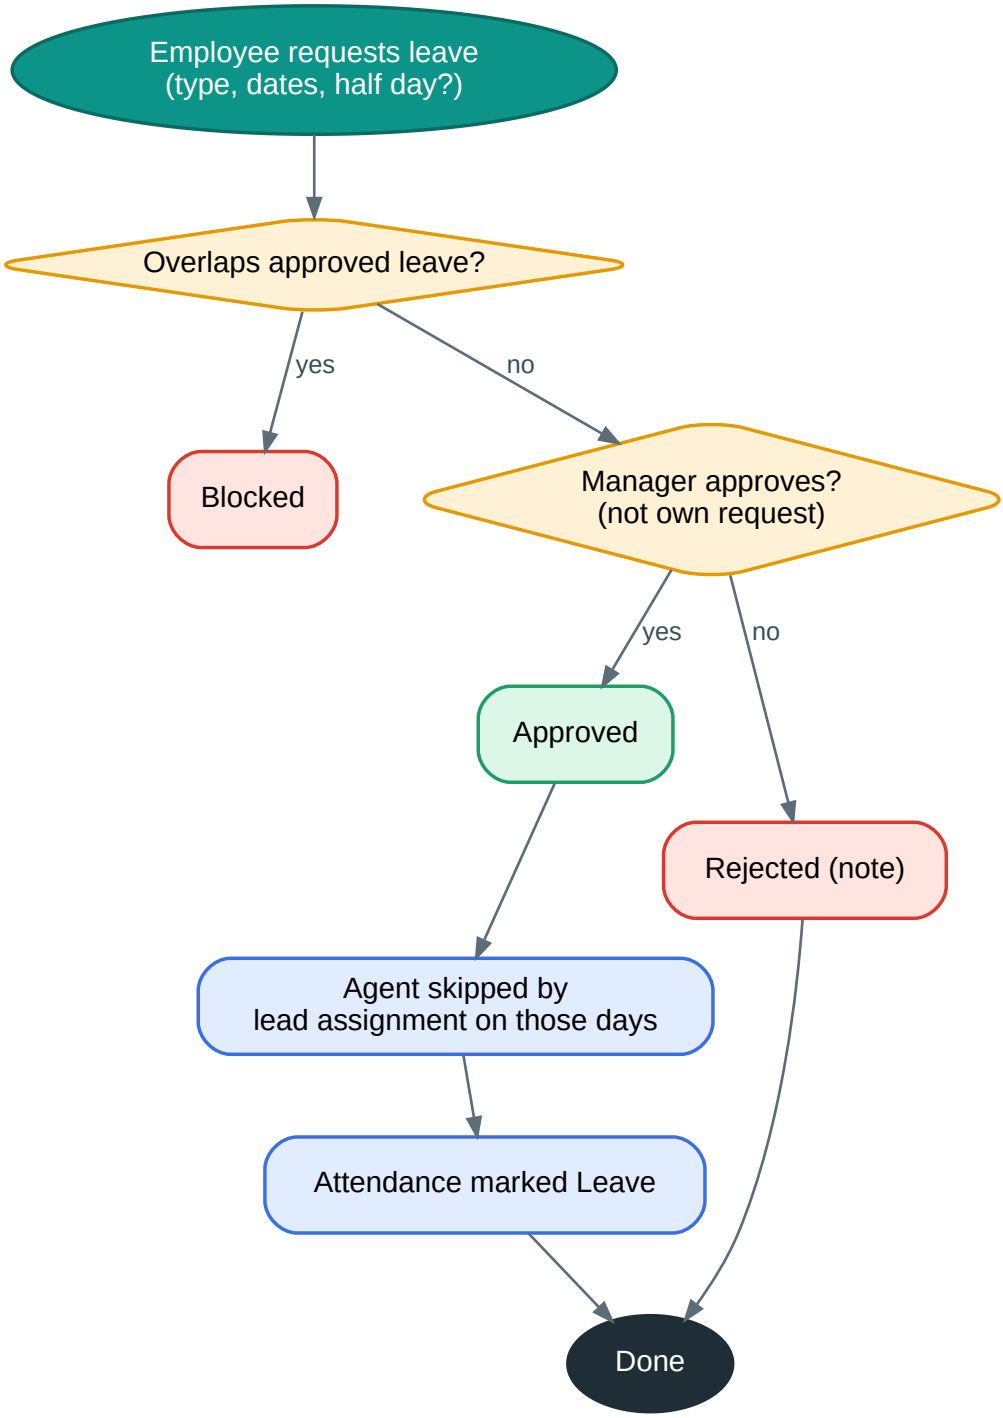

Leave is requested and approved in the app. Approved leave automatically stops new leads going to that person.

REAL EXAMPLE

Oleg requests annual leave from 20 to 24 October. Omar approves. During those days, new Russian-language leads go to Mira instead, and Oleg's attendance shows Leave.

WHY IT MATTERS

Buyers are never left waiting for an agent who is on holiday, and leave records are always up to date.

Reports

14 Report export

Only Admin can export leads, reports and attendance. Exports match the screen and are always logged.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

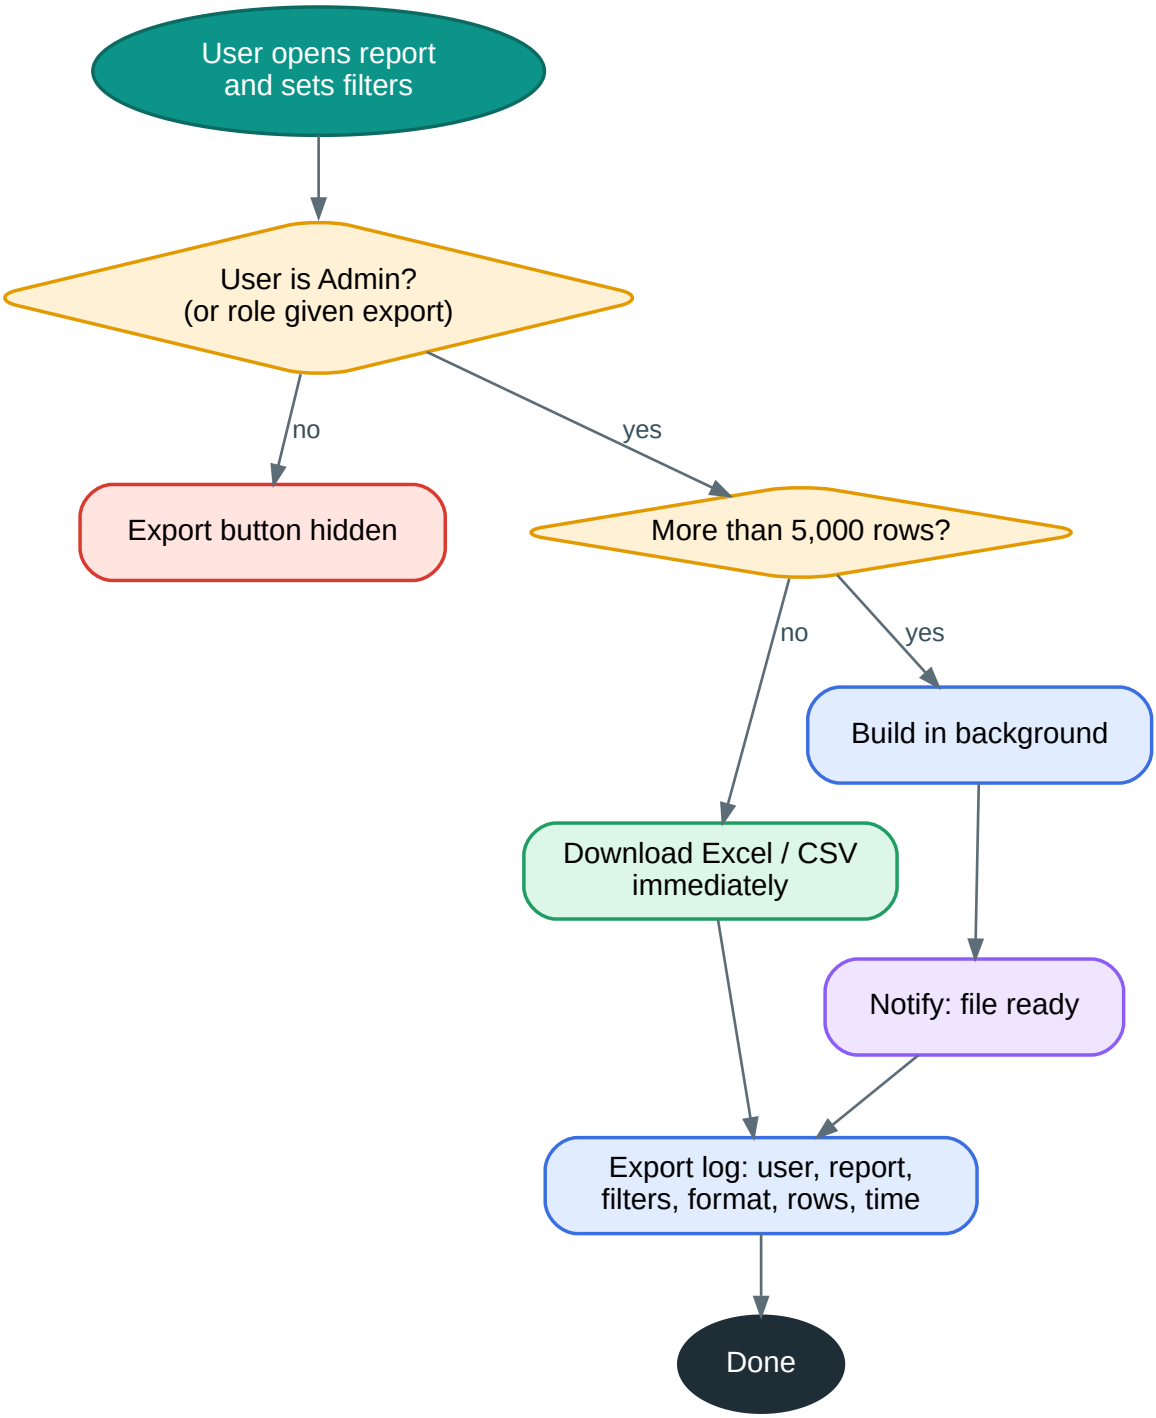

Leads, reports and attendance can be downloaded as Excel or CSV only by the Admin, and every download is recorded.

REAL EXAMPLE

The Admin downloads September's marketing report: AED 53,150 spent, 646 leads, AED 82 per lead. The Excel totals match the screen exactly. The log shows who exported it, when, and with which filter. Agents and managers can view reports on screen but cannot download them.

WHY IT MATTERS

Company data cannot leave the system without the Admin, which protects the client database and meets data protection rules.

15 Sign-up and free trial

How a new agent or brokerage becomes a customer online. Enterprise customers go through our sales team instead.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

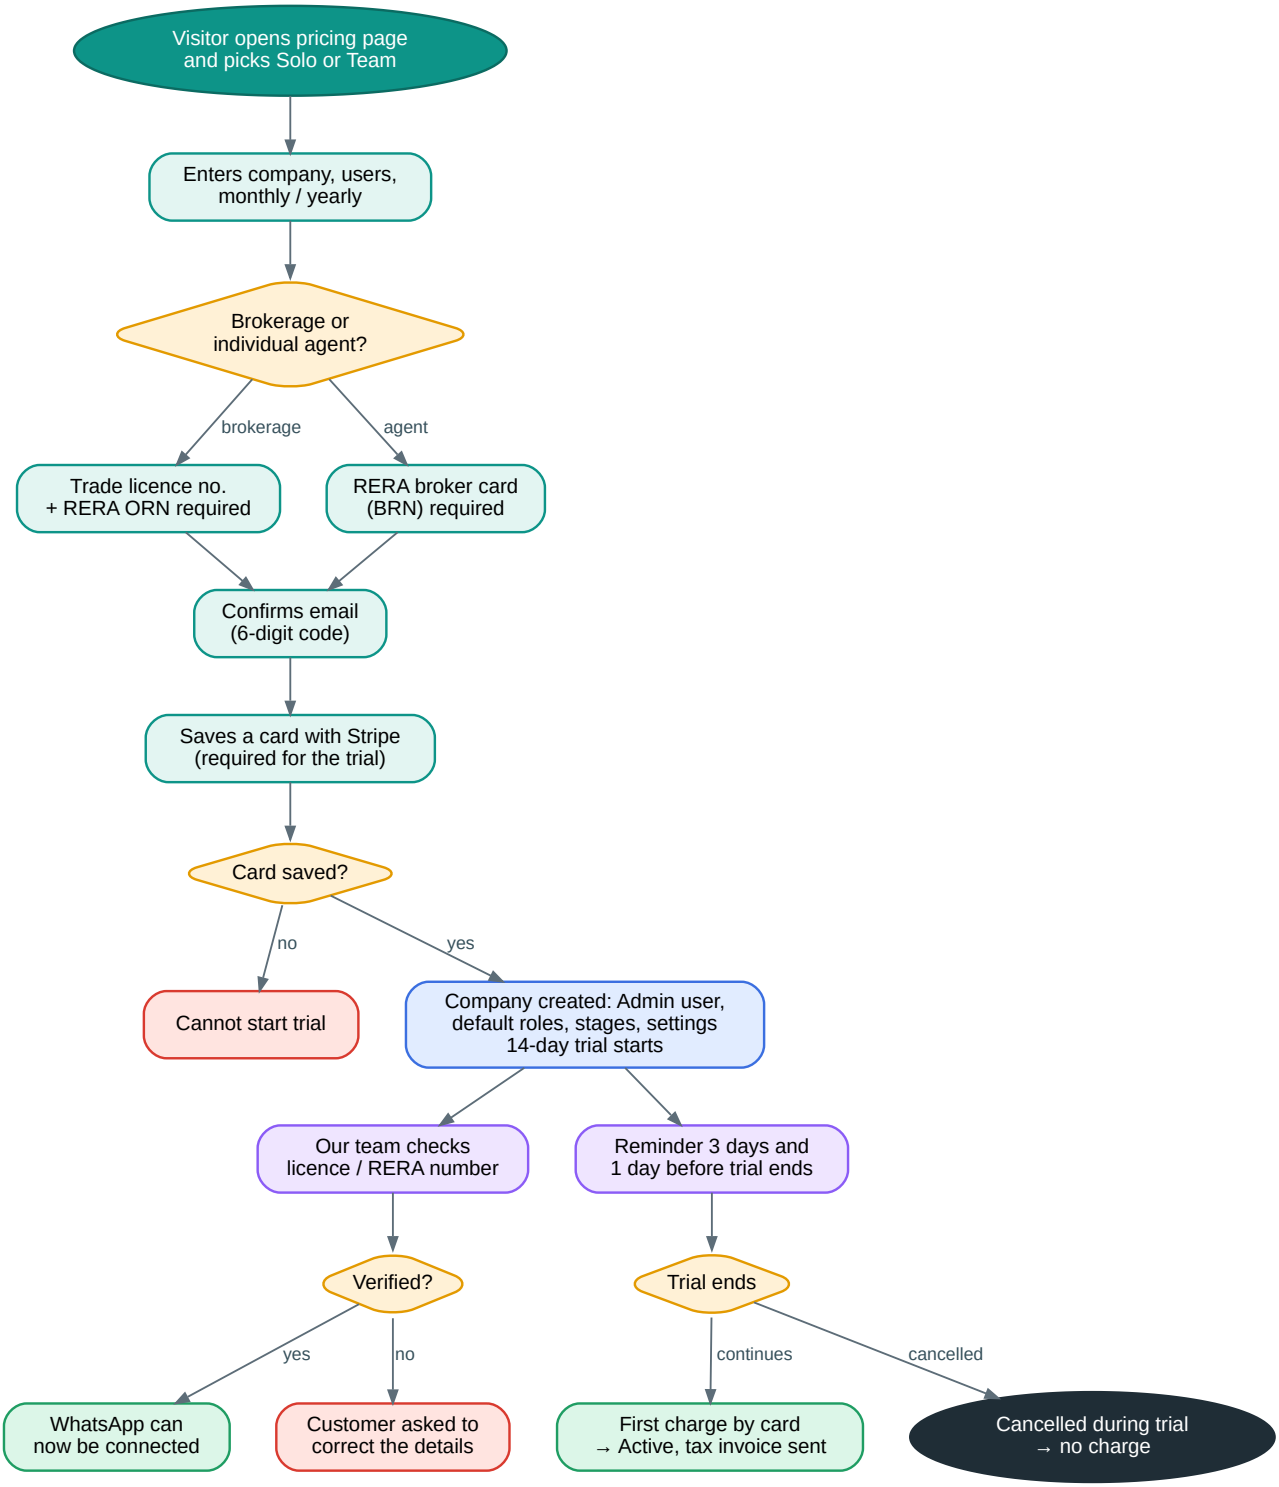

A new customer can sign up on our website on their own, try the CRM free for 14 days, and become a paying customer without anyone from our side having to set things up.

REAL EXAMPLE

Khalid runs Skyline Realty, a brokerage with 10 agents. He picks the Team plan for 10 users, enters his trade licence and RERA ORN, confirms his email and saves the company card. Skyline's CRM is ready in two minutes, with Khalid as Admin. Our team checks the licence the same day, so Khalid can connect WhatsApp. Two days before the trial ends he gets a reminder; on day 15 the card is charged AED 1,039.50 (10 × AED 99 + 5% VAT) and a tax invoice arrives by email.

WHY IT MATTERS

Customers can start any time, even at night, and the CRM sells itself. Asking for the licence and RERA number keeps out fake accounts, and the card requirement means trials turn into paying customers.

16 Payment failed: grace period and read-only

What happens when a subscription payment does not go through. Data is never deleted while a company is unpaid.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

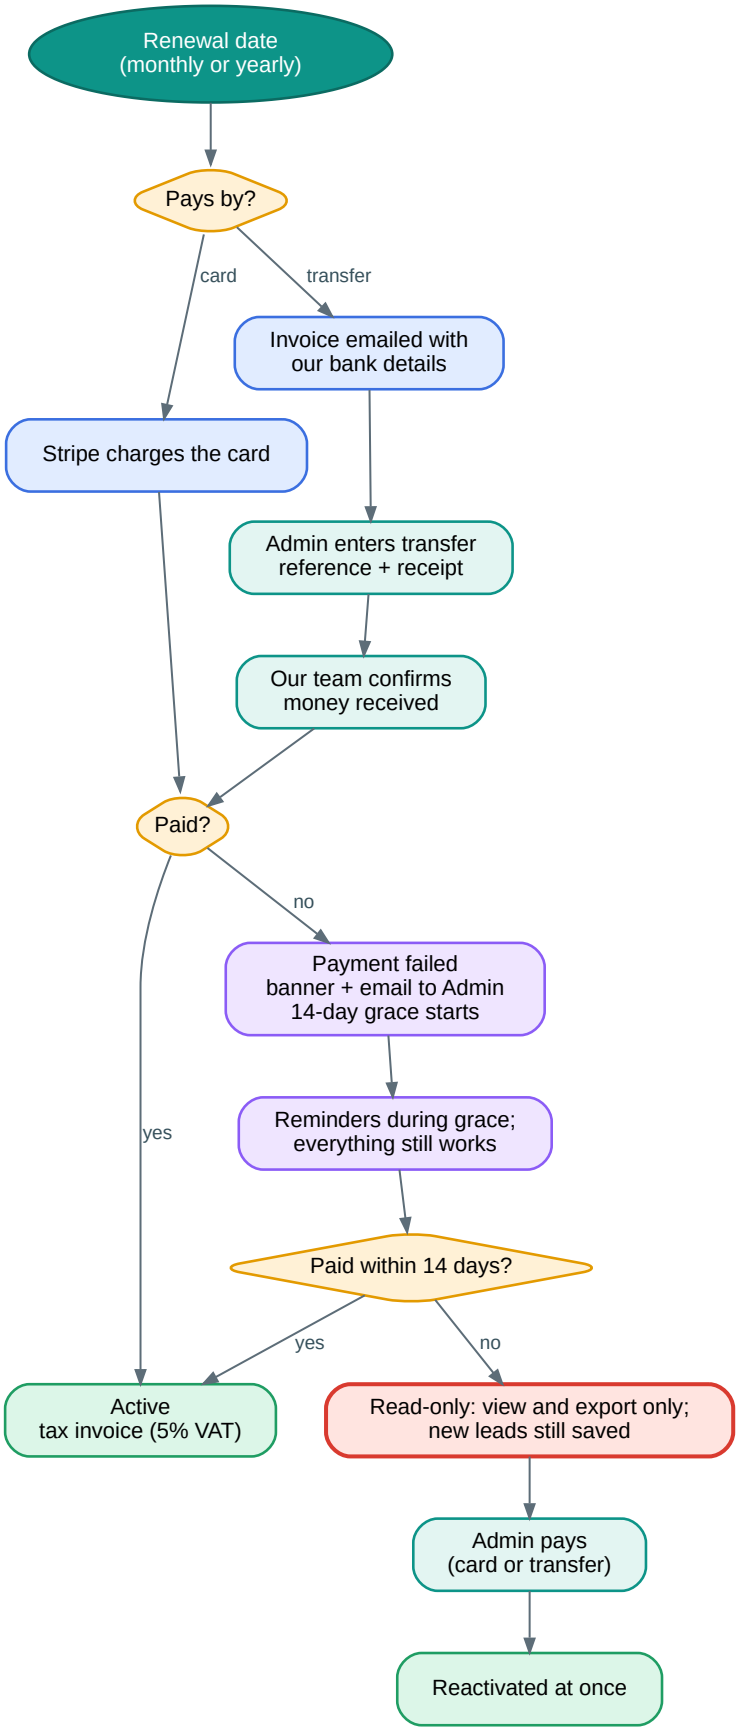

If a payment does not go through, the customer gets 14 days to pay while everything keeps working. After that the CRM becomes read-only until they pay. Nothing is ever deleted.

REAL EXAMPLE

Skyline's card expires and the November charge fails. Khalid sees a red banner and gets an email. He is busy with a launch and forgets. After 14 days the CRM becomes read-only: agents can still open leads and export, and new Bayut leads are still saved, but nobody can add notes or send WhatsApp messages. Khalid pays by bank transfer, enters the reference, our team confirms it, and the CRM is fully back within minutes.

WHY IT MATTERS

We get paid without chasing customers by phone, and customers are treated fairly: plenty of warning, no lost data, and instant reactivation.

17 Cancelling a subscription

The customer can leave at any time and take their data with them.

IN SIMPLE WORDS

A customer can cancel at any time. They keep using the CRM until the end of what they paid for, and can download all their data for 90 days afterwards.

REAL EXAMPLE

Sara, an independent agent on the Solo plan, joins a large brokerage and cancels on 10 March. Her CRM works until 31 March, the end of her paid month. In April she downloads all her leads and history as Excel files. On 29 June her data is deleted permanently.

WHY IT MATTERS

Customers trust a product they can leave easily, and the UAE data protection law is respected: data is not kept longer than needed.
